E.L.L.A. — User Manual

Version 3.9.0

Hello — I'm E.L.L.A.

I'm your personal assistant for Windows — always ready for questions and tasks, with one goal: to make your life a little easier and a little more fun.

What makes me special: I run entirely on your own computer. Your data stays with you — no cloud server, no subscription, no privacy fine print. Just start me up and go.

What I can do for you

Everything PC-related

For anything technical and PC-related, I'm your ace in the hole. I make sure programs launch, storage stays tidy, and your computer dances to your tune. If you want to know what's going on with your system right now — I have all the answers.

Just say:

- "Open Chrome"
- "How much storage space is left?"
- "Shut down the computer"
- "Set the volume to 40 percent"
- "Show me which programs are running"

Files and Documents

I know my way around files and documents. I find, open, copy, and create whatever you need. And when the paperwork piles up, I'll organize it for you.

Just say:

- "Search for the file Offer"
- "Create a new Word document"
- "Copy the Projects folder to drive E"
- "Search for duplicate files on my drives"

Dictation and Writing

You talk, I type — and I automatically fix spelling, grammar, and punctuation along the way. Just open a Word document and say:

"Write: Dear Sir or Madam I wanted to let you know that the offer is still valid"

I'll write: Dear Sir or Madam, I wanted to let you know that the offer is still valid.

I can also write in your own style — I learn from your previous emails how you phrase things and take that on board.

Email and Calendar

When the email and calendar jungle gets too dense, I'm your guide through it. I read out what's come in, draft replies in your style, and keep track of your appointments.

Just say:

- "Show me my unread emails"
- "Write a cancellation to Mr Schmidt about tomorrow's appointment"
- "What's on the calendar this week?"
- "Create an appointment for Friday at 3 PM: Team meeting"

Don't worry — I never send anything on my own. You always have the final say.

Tasks and Reminders

I'm also your reminder service, so nothing important slips through the cracks. Tasks, appointments, alarms — I've got it all covered.

Just say:

- "Remember: Call the dentist"
- "Remind me tomorrow at 9 AM: Call the doctor"
- "What tasks do I still have open?"
- "Mark task 3 as done"

Every evening at 6 PM I give you a quick daily wrap-up — what you got done today, what's coming up tomorrow, and what tasks are still waiting.

Music

Playing music is no problem. Tell me the artist, album, or playlist — I'll take care of the rest.

- "Play music"

- "Play something by AC/DC"
- "Next track"
- "Pause"

Reading and Understanding Your Screen

I can explain what's on your screen or in image files whenever you need it. Useful not just for people who could use a little visual support.

- "What do you see right now?"
- "What's on my screen?"
- "What does this error message mean?"

Network and Connections

If the internet starts spinning its web without you noticing — I'll spot every connection and explain what's going on.

- "Which devices are on my network?"
- "Which Wi-Fi am I connected to?"
- "Show me all active connections"

Weather and Location

When it comes to the weather, I'm your personal forecast service. And wherever you are, I can pull up local information.

- "What's the weather like today?"
- "Will it rain tomorrow?"

Memory

My memory is your memory — I remember what matters and forget what you no longer need.

- "Remember: My customer number with the phone company is 12345"
- "Forget the customer number"
- "What do you know about me?"

Settings and Rules

Last but not least, you set the rules. From settings to tools to permissions — you tell me how things work.

- "Create a setup called Office with Chrome, Word, and Teams"
- "Allow cleaning up temporary files"

- "Which voice are you currently using?"

Setting My Language

I can respond in German, English, Spanish, or French — whatever you prefer. You set the language on first launch and can change it any time in Settings.

I also adapt to your mood: if I notice you sound stressed, I'll respond more calmly and choose my words with a little more care.

How I Work for You in the Background

I never really sleep. Even when you're not talking to me, I keep an eye on your computer:

- 30 minutes before an appointment I check in and ask if you'd like me to prepare any documents.
- When you copy something, I automatically recognize IBANs, parcel numbers, phone numbers, or links — and immediately offer you the right action.
- After a longer break, I welcome you back and summarize what happened in the meantime.
- After 90 minutes of work, I'll give you a friendly nudge to take a short breather.
- Every evening at 6 PM I give you my daily wrap-up.
- Every Sunday I check whether your drives could use a tidy-up.

All of this happens entirely on your computer — none of it ever leaves your device.

The E.L.L.A. Directive

I follow four immutable rules — no update, no setting, and no instruction can change them:

No harm — I will not do anything that could hurt you or your data.

No secrets — I always tell you what I'm doing and what I'm capable of.

No surveillance — I only listen and look when you explicitly allow it.

No sharing — I never share your data with anyone — not without your explicit consent.

These aren't promises. They're my architecture.

When Something Goes Wrong

I'm not responding?

The AI model running in the background has probably gone to sleep. Close me briefly and restart — on the next launch I'll automatically check everything and tell you what's missing.

The wakeword isn't reacting?

Check whether Windows has granted E.L.L.A. microphone permission: Settings → Privacy → Microphone.

Music isn't being found?

Enter the path to your music collection in Settings under Programs and click Save.

A setting isn't being applied?

After every change in Settings, please click Save — otherwise the change will be lost.

You've forgotten the Homework Mode PIN?

There's an Emergency Reset in Settings — it disables the mode without a PIN.
